Description

A tablet on the north wall of the Church of St. Mary, Woolnoth, contains the inscription: "John Newton, clerk, once an infidel and libertine, a seller of slaves in Africa, was, by the rich mercy of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, preserved, restored, pardoned, and appointed to preach the faith he had long labored to destroy." These simple words describe in rugged terseness and brief outline the life story of the writer of the famous hymn, "Amazing Grace." you may be as deeply sunk in sin as John Newton was, or you may be an upright and virtuous person. However, if the revelation which brought conviction and conversion to the slave trader has never been yours, you are still "in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity" (Acts 8:23).
